MASSACHUSETTS BUREAU OF STATISTICS

Rooms 250-258, State House, Boston

The Bureau is organized into four permanent divisions: (1) the Labor Division, engaged in the collection and tabulation of Statistics of Strikes and Lockouts, Changes in Rates of Wages and Hours of Labor, Trade Union Statistics, and other data relative to the condition of labor in the Commonwealth; (2) the Manufactures Division, which collects and tabulates Statistics of Manufactures; (3) the Municipal Division, which collects and tabulates Statistics of Municipal Finances; (4) the Free Employment Offices Division, embracing the administration of the State Free Employment Offices, of which there are three, located respectively at 8 Kneeland Street, Boston; 24 Bridge Street, Springfield; and in the Bradford-Durfee Textile School Building, Fall River. During the period of taking and compiling the Census a fifth, the Census Division, is organized.

The functions of the Bureau and the duties of the Director are summarized in Sections 1 and 3 of Chapter 371 of the Acts of 1909, entitled "An Act to Provide for a Bureau of Statistics," as follows:

SECTION 1. There shall be a Bureau of Statistics, the duties of which shall be to collect, assort, arrange, and publish statistical information relative to the commercial, industrial, social, educational, and sanitary condition of the people, the productive industries of the Commonwealth, and the financial affairs of the cities and towns; to establish and maintain free employment offices as provided for by chapter four hundred and thirty-five of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and six and amendments thereof; and to take the decennial census of the Commonwealth required by the Constitution and present the results thereof in such manner as the General Court may determine.

SECTION 3. The director of the Bureau of Statistics shall annually on or before the third Wednesday in January submit to the general court a statement summarizing the work of the bureau during the preceding year, and shall make therein such recommendations as he may deem proper. He shall also prepare annually, for distribution as public documents, a report on the statistics of labor, which shall embody statistical and other information relating especially to labor affairs in the commonwealth; a report on the statistics of manufactures, to be gathered as hereinafter more particularly provided for; a report on the financial statistics of the cities and towns of the Commonwealth, to be gathered as hereinafter more particularly provided for; and a report covering the work of the free employment offices. . . . The director may also publish, at such intervals as he deems expedient, bulletins or special reports relative to industrial or economic matters and municipal affairs. . . .

DIRECTORY OF LABOR ORGANIZATIONS IN MASSACHUSETTS, 1909.

INTRODUCTORY.

The matter presented in this Bulletin constitutes the eighth annual edition of the Massachusetts Trade Union Directory.<sup>1</sup> The first directory of this character was published in August, 1902, the organizations listed being classified by industries. The entire issue having been exhausted within a few days, a revised edition was published in November, 1902, in which edition the organizations were presented by cities and towns, a method of presentation of local organizations which has been adhered to in each of the later editions. No edition of the directory was issued in 1903, but in 1904 and annually thereafter an edition has been published. In 1907 the value of the directory was further enhanced by the inclusion of a list of the national and international labor organizations which have affiliated locals in Massachusetts.

The present directory follows in general plan that of 1908 and consists of four divisions: (I.) "National and International Organizations" which have affiliated local unions in Massachusetts; (II.) "State and District Organizations," consisting of unions, councils, and lodges not confined to one city or town, but embracing a section of the State or several States; (III.) "Local Delegate Organizations," composed of delegates from local unions in the same locality; and (IV.) "Local Organizations," composed of wage-earners in a single locality directly associated in what may be called the "unit" body of organization.

In compiling the present directory several methods of securing information have been used in conjunction with each other. A card file consisting of an individual card for each organization included in the directory for 1908 was first prepared, and additional cards for unions since organized have been added. On these cards careful records have been kept of all changes in meeting places, secretaries, and other information pertinent to the subject. In May of the present year schedules were sent to all of the national and international unions in the United States requesting a list of their affiliated locals in Massachusetts, together with the names and addresses of the respective secretaries. Similar schedules were sent to all State and District organizations and local delegate bodies. By these means, and also by a careful consideration of newspaper clippings relative to labor organizations in the Commonwealth, the Bureau has been able to secure information with reference to the organization of new unions and the disbanding of those formerly existing.

Following this preliminary work, a schedule of questions, to which was attached an explanatory statement with reference to the directory, was mailed to each organization known to be in existence. It is gratifying to state that the schedules were returned by over 80 per cent of the unions addressed. In nearly all of the remaining cases where no returns were received by mail, agents of the Bureau have secured the returns desired either from the local secretaries themselves or from some other reliable source.

In view of these various methods of securing and verifying the matter presented, and, further, in view of the growing disposition of the secretaries of organizations included herein to co-operate with the Bureau by furnishing, voluntarily, the information desired, we feel confident that this edition is more nearly accurate and complete than any previously issued.

NOTE.

[The four divisions of the directory begin on the following pages:

I. International and National Organizations,	page 2
II. State and District Organizations,	page 5
III. Local Delegate Organizations,	page 6
IV. Local Organizations,	page 9

Abbreviations. In addresses, the word "street" has been omitted; other designations are abbreviated as follows: Av. for avenue; Pl., place; Ter., terrace; Pk., park; Rd., road; L. B., lock box.
